Nathan's Notes...

Today is our annual church picnic at Camp Allendale. This is always one of my favorite Sundays of the year because there's nothing better than praising God as a church family and then enjoying His creation, a great meal, and recreation together. I believe it gives us a small glimpse of what eternity will be like. I'd like to extend a big thanks to everyone who helped make this event possible, especially our hard-working fellowship team. I hope everyone decides to come and take a little time to get better acquainted with our church family. I look forward to seeing you all there.
